

PRANJAL SHAH

7600 Gladstone Drive, Apt # 108
Naperville, IL 60565
drpranjal@gmail.com

Educational Qualification:

Smt. N. H. L. Municipal Medical College
Ahmedabad, India
M.B.B.S

September 1994 – January 2000

Smt. N. H. L. Municipal Medical College
Ahmedabad, India
M.D, Pediatrics

February 2000 – February 2003

Resurrection Westlake Hospital
Melrose Park, Illinois
Internal Medicine Residency

June 2005 – June 2008

Work Experience:

Internist
Woodridge Clinic, Woodridge, IL

July 2008-Present

Staff Physician (I.C.U)
Sterling Hospital, Ahmedabad, India

July 2004 – June 2005

Observer, Internal Medicine
St. Joseph Hospital, Parkersburg, WV, USA

August 2003-December 2003

Research / Publication:

A study of neonatal sepsis: with special emphasis on utility of septic screen in diagnosis of neonatal sepsis.

July 2001- December 2001

Mortality and morbidity in newborns admitted in NICU. Paper Publication
September 2002

Clinicoradiological correlation in patients with tuberculosis meningitis. Poster Presentation.
January 2003

Development of quality improvement protocols for internal medicine residency continuity clinic
June 2008

Post lumbar puncture headache. Review article. Accepted for publication in hospital physician

Necrotizing Fasciitis, Poster presentation, ACP

Licensure:

Permanent Illinois State Medical License July 2007

Medical School Awards:

First rank in Bio Chemistry	November 1995
First rank in Physiology	November 1995
Best out going student	January 2000
First Rank in MD Boards	February 2003

Language Fluency

English
Gujarati
Hindi

Extra Curricular Activities

Treasurer, Resident social committee 2005 to present
Chairman, resident committee, IAMA (Indian American Medical Association)
2005 to present
Member P&T committee Westlake hospital 2006 to present
Member Septic Shock Protocol Development committee, Westlake Hospital 2006

References

Available on request